“ I am Cindy's sister-in-law, Kathy. I have known the Gullick Family for over four decades. Mr. Clarence and Mrs. Gloria Gullick raised a fine family who lived life to its fullest.

When Cindy married my brother, Booker, she introduced her mom, dad, three brothers (Tommy, Kerry, and Kevin) and one sister (Kelli) to me one-by-one. Over the years, I learned of their passing, one-by-one. Each time, I cried, as I have cried in the last few days, because I knew them, like family, and prayed to God to comfort the remaining family. Now, Kevin has gone to join his loved ones on the other side. Of the immediate Gullick family, that leaves only Cindy.

Cindy, God had a purpose and a plan when he took the others before you. He knew that he had given you the compassion, the strength, the wisdom, and the love to do whatever was needed for each of your family members upon their passing from this life. It is okay to weep, to feel sadness, and to grieve, but know that all of them are in a better place. I hope the cherished memories will bring you smiles, and I pray that the Lord will continue to keep his arms around you, walk beside you daily, and keep you filled with the holy spirit so that you will go on with life, as Kevin (Moon) and the rest of your family would want you to do.

I am not a Facebook fan, but when Cindy shared that Kevin was a regular contributor ("Faces"), I got the privilege to read a few. Let me tell you, Kevin was a powerful writer and adviser, and he wrote in own way and in his own style. His words made me think, laugh, cry, and pray.

Kevin, I hate to see you go, but I take comfort in knowing your mama, daddy, brothers, sister, and all your other loved ones eagerly await your arrival on the other side. Have a Happy Heaven Reunion with them, and Rest in Peace..

Love, Kathy

“ First and foremost, my deepest sympathy to Kevin's family. Please know you are in my thoughts and prayers.

Kevin, my friend, my big brother....when I think of Kevin, I will smile big. I didn't know him long and never got to meet him, we were Facebook friends but Kevin made me feel as if we had known each other all our lives. He knew when something was wrong, he picked up on it every time and then reached out to make sure I was okay. Dealing with his own struggles, he always had a kind word and always made sure the people close to him knew he loved them. He has taught me so much and made me a better person by educating me, he did that because he cared. He was a messenger and boy did he make sure people heard him. I promised him pictures of Gelnhausen Germany as soon as I went home, to show him how much things changed there. We would talk about his time in Germany quite often....there is so much more I could say about him and not a single thing would be bad. He was truly a special man that touched my heart very deeply, I will never forget him and will forever be thankful and proud to call him a friend, a mentor and mostly, my big brother....I love you!!!

“ Oh Kevin. Where do I begin? Your sister Kelli and I literally grew up together. I always knew you as her big brother. After Kelli passed, you and I connected on Facebook. You took it on yourself to be my "big brother" and look out for me. I affectionately referred to you as my GODFATHER. I came to you for advice on a regular basis; I knew I could call you anytime day or night and you would set me straight or advise me on how to get on a better path no matter what I was dealing with. 2013 was one of the worst years of my life, and I am forever grateful to you for helping me get through that horrible time period that could have cost me my life. You were an amazing friend, brother and person all the way around. I cannot tell you how much I will miss you. I love you, "gawd fajah" <3
