“ I wanted to share my memories of Ann, a truly amazing woman who meant so much to all of us. I became pretty good friends with mckayla in middle school and From the very beginning, she welcomed us into her home in Macomb, treating us like one of her own (As some middle school kid and even as an adult) , Whether it was cookin up enough food to feed a football team or sharing her wisdom and advice, she always made us feel valued and loved. And I think I speak for every single one of McKaylas friends who had the privilege of being able to know her when I say that

I can't tell you how many times mckayla with whichever one of us friends at the time or even all of us found ourselves in a pickle, and there was Ann, hopping in her truck at 3 AM to come get us without a second thought. That's just the kind of person she was—always there for us, no matter the time or place. with a lengthy lecture in tow sometimes. (Tom you saved us a bunch too and we are forever grateful sir!!)

those hugs! Every time I'd leave I'd shake Tom's hand and get big ol hug from Ann. I'll miss them more than I can say. You felt all the love and warmth in those big squeezes. And I still Laugh thinking about those drives with Ann & McKayla, getting wrapped up in whatever western audiobook was playing. It was like we were on a little adventure together. Preacher the gunslinger series was one of them I remember she actually is the reason I went out and bought the whole dang series my self

I could go on and on ...

Ann may be gone, but she'll always live on in our hearts and memories. Sending all my love and condolences to Tom Ellis I can't even begin to imagine your pain and dealing with something like that I hope somehow you find peace and comfort in all of this. And to my dearest Friend mckayla you already know I understand how you feel with this with the passing of my Dad just this June you have my number if you Need anything call me anytime you already know!! We're all gonna miss her something fierce.

With the upmost Love and Respect
