“ I worked at okmulgee high school for 15years and knew Deborah Jennings and I met bill several times.I didn't know him very well but he was always kind and courteous to me.Deborah used to tell me stories of the things her dad had fixed around her house I was amazed he did so much ,especially with his age but he didn't let that stop him.

“ When we cry we aren't crying because we lost him, but for all the things he did. We cry because he will never do them again, he will never come to our rescue ready to fix whatever has broken or build whatever needs building or like every single Facebook post we post, or tell jokes the way he did. He was part of us and when he died, all the actions stopped dead and there was no one to do them just the way he did...he shaped the world. He did things to the world. The world was bankrupted of ten million fine actions the night he passed on.- a mixture of me and Ray Bradbury. We love you Grandpa Bill and are so happy that you are no longer in pain and can watch over all us.
