“ I connected with Christy through our shared love of genealogy. We are related but we never found out exactly how. Suffice to say she has ancestry in the Outer Hebrides of Scotland. She was a wonderful person full of love for her country and possessed of a strong faith in God.

She is missed.

I wish to extend much love and ongoing comfort for her family.

“ When I needed reassurance that there is a God you came into my life. I never had the courage to tell you but you know it now. I miss you, just knowing I could pick up the phone and hear your voice. You just told me as I am writing this "Angela, I'm still here." I feel your arms embracing me & the love pouring into my heart. Forever my dear friend.
