“ You've been a huge part of mine and my son's life since the first time we met. You will always hold a piece of my heart. ❤️

“ Oh my goodness, David. Where do I begin? There are so many memories. We got the good, the bad and the ugly. Nowadays, I don't even know what is considered “appropriate.”

You'd be telling me to eff what everyone thinks and to just say whatever I want. This is where I'd be like, “No, let's not and say we did, sir.”

On a serious note, I'm still struggling to accept this. It hit me hard and I'm at a loss of words. I will say that I wouldn't be the person I am today without your help. You helped me get out of my shell. You taught me to stand up for myself and you taught me how to survive and be strong.

Together, we brought an amazing boy into this world. Your “baby boy” as you've always called him. You would be proud of the young man he's become. He's handsome, thoughtful and creative with a love of art like his daddy. Just like you, even though he has his gray days when he's down, he still has your heart of gold. Where you enjoyed drawing, John enjoys making things. He went from making animals and stuff out of rubber bands, to making fun stuff with perler beads to now crocheting. He's made animals, a beanie and a couple purses. His current projects are a cardigan for a teacher and a sweater for himself. He'd like to one day learn to sew as well. As for a story? The first time I ever got in a car with you, Miley Cyrus- Party in the USA was playing. You were pretending to be Miley. Lip syncing and bobbing your head around trying to dance. You ALWAYS tried lip syncing to anything and everything. It was hilarious because you NEVER knew the lyrics. You never cared what anyone thought. You were always just in the moment trying to have a great time. Same thing happened later on in time when Kendrick Lamar came on with Swimming Pools. You only did the “drank” part while doing the hand gesture for drinking. “Our song” was Amanda Perez- Candy Kisses. Any time those songs come on, I will always think of you. Oh, and Lil Wayne ft. Eminem- Rebirth. We both loved that one too! You'd be so proud because John loves that one as well □

Anyway, I hope you know how sorry I am for the way things ended.

I'd love to say we were in a much better place. I forgave you for everything a long time ago. I hope you would have been able to say the same. Despite any troubles we may have had, you will always have a place in my heart to call home. Just know that Johnathan and I loved you before and we still love you so much now. We hope you are finally at peace. You will never be forgotten, David Ray. Until we meet again 🙏🏻🙏🏻💕

“Hey dad. I'm sorry we didn't have the time to catch up sooner. I know it probably doesn't mean much now to say that I was almost ready for our talk. I hope you understand. There aren't many things I remember by this time. I do remember us going to Chuck E Cheese a lot. That was always fun. I also remember the bike rides as a family in Texas. You'd even take me to school in Owatonna on the handle bars. You taught me how to ride a bike at the Budget Inn and you showed me how to fix the chain when it fell off. I know I loved you a lot back then. I still do and I hope you know that. I hope that you're resting peacefully now that you know how I feel. You will forever be missed. Please tell Maw Maw, Paw Paw, And Uncle Ricky I say hi. By the way, Mom always tells me I have your Joker smile. I just tell her I want your eyes.
