“*Libby was the youngest of seven children. I knew her because her sister Valerie & I have been dear friends for about 35 years. We three often watched movies together at Valerie’s house & went on fun day trips. Libby was intelligent & liked to read. She had a sharp wit about her & was fun to be around. Libby became a Grandmother to two precious girls & loved it when her daughter Anna face timed her for Vivi to talk face to face with her. I will miss you “Libby Lou”
