“ Jack, you and I my brother have been friends many many years. Our last words together we're not good because you wanted me to move my motor home a whole lot sooner than you told me I could have it there in the street in front of the house. It saddens me that we didn't have good things to say to each other the last time I saw you. I love you brother I hope you made it to heaven where we will see each other again someday.
