“ RIP until we meet again I still can't believe you are gone I'm glad we talked on the phone the Saturday before you passed.you were the best friend I ever had I considered you family. We went through alot together both good and bad and I wouldn't trade any one memory either good or bad for anything in this world. You may be physically gone from this world but you will forever live in my heart until we meet again. Pella and I love you and miss you and will till we are playing a game of pool in the sky.

“ She was my friend and an advocate for her family. She was very smart and often took care of others more than she did herself. One of her quotes that makes me laugh was “that girl has more game than Parker Brothers”, and on the opposite spectrum, her satirical one: “and how is that working out for you ?” I will miss our conversations.

I miss you Momma and on my birthday my heart aches. And I long for you. I wish I could have told you how proud I was to call you my Mom.
