(July 6, 1979 – October 8, 2014)

Jason Elisha Rogers was born on July 6, 1979 in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Almost 12 pounds and 24 inches long, he was precious little Jay-bird. During his school years, every teacher said he was a friend to everyone and he loved to make people laugh. When he was 20 years old, he fell in love with Sarah Minartz. His first son Elisha Daniel Rogers was born on September 20, 2002, and he named him after his father. On March 14, 2007 Jason married his sweetheart and best friend; Sarah Minartz Rogers. His second son Xerxes Asriel Noah Rogers was born on October 24, 2007. In 2011, he started a lawn business out of the trunk of an old Cavalier. Working hard he was able to open his business full time and he named it Freedom Lawns. In 2012, he traveled to Haiti on a mission trip with Victory Christian Center, the church he attended with his family. He was a mentor in his church for a life group, Straight Talk for Men. Jason enjoyed cleaning house, baking, and cooking alongside his companion. He loved his children with his whole heart. He was a loving husband, father, son, brother, and uncle.

Jason was preceded in death by his brother, Thomas Rogers. Left behind to cherish his memories are his mother Tia Cox and his father Daniel Rogers; his loving wife Sarah Minartz Rogers; sons, Elisha Daniel Rogers and Xerxes Asriel Noah Rogers; sisters, Amberley Kristina Villegas-Campos and Alisha Ellen Rogers, Candice Rogers; and brother, Daniel Rogers. He leaves behind many loving uncles, aunts, cousins, nieces and nephews.

Jason had a favorite scripture God gave him in a dream, John 8: 36

“So if the son sets you free, you will be free indeed.”
