“ I miss my Aunt Sue especially those daily phone calls. She didn't have a lot to say cause she understood I was busy and had to work too much, it was the thought of me that through me and my mom always said "it's the thought that counts." so i musta been in her thoughts more than i ever knew. more important to me was the fact that she always said "love you" at the end of the call which not too many of us nowadays say to each other and we need to make sure we say it and mean it so I know she had love and was loved and I will never forget her. Love You Aunt Sue!
And Ron I know you miss her but know that You have a family that can surround you with love and family is so very important. Let the beauty of family love you and just ask if you ever need a thing.
