“ Johnnie was a very good father to his 2 children , He worked hard all of his life to support the family he had and he was very proud of them. Early in his married life he was hurt very bad by a drop-hammer that rolled down a steep incline under a bridge that was being built , his right leg was broken very bad with a compound fracture above the knee and another one below the knee. He was a young man or he would have lost his leg, the Dr. said. He spent 2 years recovering from this accident, and his right leg was 2 inches shorter than the left leg when he recovered enough to walk again. I will miss him a lot and I know his kids and grand kids will also. RIP and you will never be forgotten.
