“ Grammie, you always taught me that you would be around, no matter if you were here or gone. I am so thankful for your teachings and wisdom, and I know if I call your name you'll be here. Grammie, thank you for showing me what it means to live here, and I know that one day I can be everything that you were and more. I love you Grammie! Say hi to Gruncle Tinker for me.

“ My Mom from another grandma! I met my mom after running into a barrel cactus next door one day playing basketball. My neighbor friend's parents and mine were at work. So he knocked on Lynda's door and she invited us in with open arms! She tended to my injuries the best she could after contacting my mother at work. Fast forward, I became best friends with Lynda's nephew Tommy! Lynda and John, as I call him, became close friends with my mother. Lynda was always more like a friend than a mother. Mom, I miss you and love you! I look forward to seeing you on the other side! Thank you for letting me into your life!

Love,
Jason

“ I can't think of a single memory that stands out more than the rest of my memories. I am proud to be your Daughter Momma. And I'm so very blessed to have spent the last year by your side. And able to repair your home so you were able to move about easier. And to see the love between you and dad that rekindled after 57 years of marriage. You have been my rock. And my bestfriend. We have truly walked where angels fear to walk. And to be able to come through the dark night of the soul to find the light through the Forrest smiling the whole way. I know grandma is so happy now that she has her kids with her that she loved so dearly. One day when it's my time..... Ill see you soon then. I love you and don't worry I'll find my way.
