

Marcy Kay Wisman

October 2, 1944 - August 16, 2020

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

TB

“ My big sister was my inspiration to follow my heart and live my life in a way that allowed me to follow my dreams and see the world. She was a strong, intelligent person who watched out for all of us siblings. Her three children were her pride and joy, and she supported them to follow their dreams. She was fearless and very protective of all she loved. She is missed by all who love the truth, and a spirited discussion on any topic. RIP sis, see you in the morning.

THOMAS Butcher - March 31, 2025 at 12:48 AM