Ruth Elvina Daneshmayeh

Ruth E. Martin (Daneshmayeh) was born on September 3, 1933 and returned to her spiritual home on December 24, 2016. Ruthie was the youngest of eight children by Valera Belle Brown and William John Reese Martin of the Tahlequah, Oklahoma area by way of the Eastern Band Tsalagi and Chahta people. Ruth's parents rest in Hickory Grove Indian Cemetery in Delaware County, Oklahoma. Ruth is now free to return to the arms of her mother and reunite with her youngest son, David J.H. Rogers. She is remembered by her children as a loving mother who wrote music and sang on the radio as a young woman. She was an avid reader who enjoyed playing the piano and organ, sketching and writing poetry. She loved her Creator and children above all things and will be remembered for always sharing kindness with those in need. Ruth pursued her baccalaureate in Criminal Justice from Oklahoma State University and was an advocate to those who society overlooks. She performed songs she had written on the radio and was fluent in English and Arabic. Eternity will whisper Ruth's memory as she reminds us to find time to water the weeds for they too are flowers who need love. Kisses to you mother. Kisses to you.

“ To my other mother for such a short time. You changed my life and I no longer fear death because I know you are there with our Annie waiting on me.i never knew a mother's love until you and I spent almost everyday with you for the last 17 months and the wisdom i gained and the love i felt was incredible. Thank you for gracing my life you know how much i loved you and how much you will be missed.i enjoyed doing things for you and I know you were ready to go. Thank you so much for telling me you would pick up Annie when you got there. You will always be in my heart and your heart sits next to Annie's and you both will go with me one day when I come to meet you both for eternity. Linda

“ My sincere condolences for your loss at this time. May you find comfort in your loving memories, and in God's promise that he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. (Rev 21:4) With my deepest sympathy, Karen
