“ Tracy was my little brother. It's hard to believe he is gone. He was always the unstoppable dare devil who never afraid when we were growing up. As a kid he was always getting hurt seriously but no matter what nothing kept down. He was hard worker since he was 16 yo never taking a sick day: we use to spend every Sunday's at his house grilling brats and having drinks while we enjoyed watching the NASCAR races. He was the sibling that I was probably the closet too as we became adults we shared a lot of laughs together and at times some tears:. He was someone that you could rely on and a good friend to people he met in life. He a great heart and I can't recall a time that I ever heard him event raise his voice in anger to anyone our whole life: He will be missed by out family and many many friends. You have your wings now brother so go fly high keeping watch over the rest of us. Tell Jeremiah and Spencer we said hi and we love and miss them. I'm not going to say goodbye, its just so long for now . I will see you again someday soon. I love you brother! Your in a better and will be in no more pain now!
