“ Mr. Wayne was my Boss at H&P, I have never had a Boss treat me like a Family Member like Mr. Wayne did. I have just learned of his death and really regret not staying in touch w/ him! He was a highly influential person in my life and is a big reason that I am where I am today. He taught me how to professionally balance patience & persistency at the same time, he taught me the in's & out of the corporate life at H&P w/o feeling like I was a bother to him. One day he gave me the greatest compliment that I could ever have received from him, he told me; that I reminded him of himself when he was younger! I never have forgotten him and the great Mentorship that he afforded me during my years working for him, everyone had the up most respect for Mr. Wayne to the point of, I would go into a District that I had never been before and the Manager's of that area would ask me who I reported to, I'd tell them that I direct reported to Mr. Wayne, and you could see a difference in their attention span at that point, I would be treated as if I was there to make things happen and they were going to see to it that I received all the assistance that I needed! Thank YOU Mr. Wayne for being such a good Mentor and Friend to me!
GOD Bless YOU & YOUR FAMILY SIR! I will never forget YOU!
May you rest in peace Sir,

“ Wayne was never a man of many words so when he would speak, everyone would stop and listen because this was something important. He communicated best with actions and those actions conveyed a loud and clear message of strength, purpose and good old-fashioned common sense. Rare to complain, if something needed to be fixed, changed or improved, he just set about to make it happen. He kept going. His opinions and instructions meant more to me than the words of any other human being on the planet. I shall miss this pillar of strength, my brother, but remain forever grateful for sharing this life with him, and for the gifts of his sons and grandchildren. The lesson he leaves us all within his early departure is ... “Let’s just love one another while we have the chance!”
